Se pulsán todas las notas del acorde lo más simultáneamente posible con un solo dedo. En este caso: ↑, de la más grave a la más aguda y en éste: ↓, de la más aguda a la más grave.

Accord plaqué avec un seul doigt. Dans ce cas: ↑, de la note la plus grave à la plus aiguë et dans cet autre: ↓, de la note la plus aiguë à la plus grave.

As simultaneous a chord as possible with a single finger. In this case: ↑, from the lowest note towards the highest one, and in this case: ↓, from the highest towards the lowest note.

Espanoletas

Cp. 12

Es igual al símbolo anterior, pero con el acorde arpegiado.

Même signification que le précédent, mais avec l'accord en arpeggio.

Just as the preceding symbol, but in arpeggio.

Passacalle

Cps. 8 y 9

La nota más grave con el pulgar y las otras del acorde con el anular, comenzando por la más aguda. Ha de ser un impacto fuerte e incisivo.

Jouer la note la plus grave avec le pouce et les autres notes de l'accord avec l'annulaire qui doit commencer par la plus aiguë, avec une attaque forte et mordante.

The lowest note with the thumb and the rest of the notes, with the ring finger beginning with the highest. The attack must be strong and incisive.

La miñona de Cataluña

Es un rasgueado que comienza con el anular y termina con el pulgar, dándole a éste la mayor fuerza.

«Rasgueado» qui commence avec l'annulaire et qui finit avec le pouce. Donner la plus grande intensité au pouce.

This is a «rasgueado» (strumming) that begins with the ring finger and concludes with the thumb, giving the latter the greatest intensity.

Cp. 7

El dedo que tenga este símbolo, ha de pulsar apoyando en la cuerda inmediata, pero todas las notas del acorde han de sonar simultáneamente.

Un doigt avec ce symbole doit jouer «apoyando» sur la corde la plus proche, mais l'accord tout entier doit sonner plaqué.

The finger bearing this symbol must play «apoyando» on the adjacent string; however, all the notes of the chord must sound together.

Cps. 48 / 52

Apoyando en la cuerda inmediata con la yema del dedo pulgar.

Jouer «apoyando» sur la corde la plus proche avec la pulpe du pouce.

«Apoyando» on the adjacent string with the fleshy tip of the thumb.

Rujero y Paradetas

Cps. 13 / 16

Sonido delgado y metálico.

Son mince et métallique.

Lean and metallic sound.

Cp. 2

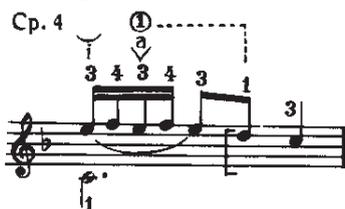

Pulsar dos o más notas con el mismo dedo en cuerdas diferentes y consecutivas.

Jouer deux notes ou plus avec le même doigt sur des cordes différentes et successives.

Strike two or more notes with the same finger on different and consecutive strings.

Folías

Cp. 4

Inmediatamente después de pulsar el primer «mi», coloque el dedo anular suavemente sobre la prima y quitelo después de que haya sonado el tercer «mi». De esta forma, tendrá la absoluta seguridad de que el dedo cuarto de la mano izquierda no rozará el «sol» de la prima en tercer traste.

Tout de suite après avoir joué le premier Mi, placez doucement l'annulaire sur la première corde et enlevez-le après que le troisième Mi ait sonné. De cette façon vous serez absolument sûr que le quatrième doigt de la main gauche ne va pas frôler le SOL de la première corde.

Immediately after striking the first E, place the ring finger gently on the first string and take it off after the third E has sounded. Thus, you will be absolutely sure that the fourth finger of the left hand will not brush over the G of the first string in third fret.

Coloque el borde exterior de la mano derecha perpendicularmente a las cuerdas y junto al puente. Vaya girando la mano lentamente, hasta que la palma quede completamente apoyada sobre las cuerdas. Logrará apagar el sonido progresivamente, en lugar de que se produzca un corte repentino.

Placez le bord extérieur de la main droite perpendiculairement aux cordes et le plus près du chevalet. Tournez la main lentement jusqu'à poser complètement la paume à plat sur les cordes. Vous arriverez ainsi à étouffer progressivement la résonance, au lieu de l'arrêter brusquement.

Gallarda y Villano

Cp. 20

Place the outer edge of the right hand perpendicular to the strings beside the bridge. Turn the wrist slowly in order to bring the palm down until it rests completely on the strings. Thus, you will succeed in muting the resonance progressively instead of stopping it brusquely.
